YOUR FUNERAL & THE DWP SOCIAL FUND

On 5th June 1995 the D.S.S. changed the way it contributed to a funeral and no longer meet the full costs of what is accepted as a complete funeral.

The maximum contribution is £1000 towards the funeral directors costs and will only meet the costs of the crematorium or purchase of a single depth grave and cremation papers fees.

They will not pay for:
- An obituary notice
- A Minister
- A limousine
- Any other fees payable on your behalf

When arranging the funeral, you will find yourself personally liable for the costs over and above the basic contribution. We will advise you of this sum. We do not wish you to incur any debts at this time which may prove difficult to discharge at a later date. We will therefore ask you to meet this sum prior to the funeral date. We will advise you that we reserve the right to postpone the funeral should payment of this amount not be made.

To assist your claim an invoice will be given to you as soon as possible. Should you be refused you will personally be liable for the whole amount. Please advise us immediately if your claim has been refused to enable us to discuss the situation together.

We hope we have not caused you any distress, upset or embarrassment, but we know at this moment in time the complicated procedures of the D.S.S. can be difficult to take on board.
